The Deal is Off

SOMETHING HAS GONE SER-O iously wrong with the new friendship between Premier Bennett and Mr. Fleming; also with the electrical power plans of British

Less than a month ago Mr. Bennett was sure that he had made a Columbia River deal with the federal government through the intervention of Mr. Fleming. Of course Mr. Bennett had long ceased to talk with Mr. Fulton, who negotiated the Columbia treaty, and with Mr. Green, who refuses to compromise the policy of his government. But with Mr. Fleming it was different. Mr. Bennett got along fine with Mr. Fleming, on the long distance telephone anyway.

As a result, Mr. Bennett indicated that everything was settled. His Columbia River policy of selling the power to the United States had been finally endorsed by the federal government, he told The Financial Post. And on this assumption he called tenders for clearing the site of the Duncan Lake dam.

Then Mr. Fleming came to Victoria on a campaign tour and it was expected that he would meet Mr. Bennett to confirm the deal. Mr. Fleming did not meet Mr. Bennett. He said there was no deal and probably none could be negotiated before the election of June 18. Besides, said Mr. Fleming, there was the matter of the Columbia treaty which has yet to be ratified by the Canadian Parliament and ratification could not be expected before September at the earliest.

As usual, Mr. Fleming is optimistic. In the first place, his government may not be there much longer. Even if it is, the ratification of the treaty—assuming that it is to be properly considered and all the ne-

What went wrong in the bilateral diplomacy of Messrs. Bennett and Fleming the public may never know, but clearly their failure to agree leaves the Columbia scheme, the provincial government and the the provincial government and the taxpayers of British Columbia in a curious position.

Mr. Bennett is calling tenders for costly works without knowing whether they will proceed or not. He is basing all his plans and expenditures on a treaty which may not be ratified in its present form. He is staking his whole program on a government which may not be reelected and which he and his party are pledged to defeat. He is count ing on a deal which, as Mr. Flem-

In Mr. Fleming's opinion there is no time for a deal before the polls close next month but is there time for a gesture? Roared engine, cut driveway corner too close, fiddled with windshield wiper while turning corner, forgot to judgment on amber light, depended too much on another driver's reactions, delayed turn signal too long, glanced in rear-view mirror too long, fed gas too quickly on pick-up—there could be scores of items on which the average driver could get low marks without doing anything illegal or even being accused of poor driving.

But on a space flight such little slips or omissions could be much more serious. To run out of gas on the Pat Bay highway would be little more than an annoyance. To run out of fuel to tilt your space capsule might mean that you would never land.

Operating a tiny instrument-filled chamber is one thing. And even with everything in reach there's much that can go wrong. Small wonder that we make such a fumbling attempt to oper-ate our large space ship—the one we call the planet earth.

Just as much as Glenn and Carpenter were, we are responsible for the management of our craft. We can't do much about the main orbit, but we can certainly do much to control the conditions aboard. How do we measure on this test?

It's a pretty ragged performance. We're away up in some things, but of the equipment for a successful and comfortable flight, but we mishandle much of it and ignore a great deal of it. And a lot of the dangerous stuff— we treat it as though we didn't care whether it went bang or not.

Of course with a multi-man crew we have more trouble than a lone pilot would. And when so many of the crew can't speak to others because of lan-guage differences, it's a wonder we can even stay aloft.

If Glenn and Carpenter went up to-gether and fought and quarreled all the way, broke each others instruments and acted in general like—well, like most humans on earth—it isn't probable they'd have much of a journey.

Sooner or later mankind may get the idea that it really is on a space ship in the void; that instead of squabbling and fighting to get some other crew-man's seat or to boss his actions or thoughts, it would do better to orga-nize the whole vehicle for a better flight. Then we might get the feeling that we're really going somewhere, even if it's only round and round.

It's a thought anyway. But perhaps we wouldn't really want to undertake the long training that would be neces-

Schools for Polling

The request for a multiplicity of polling stations for the coming election points to the logic of a former letter of mine to the press advocating that all elections should be held on Saturdays and the schoolhouses of the nation used for polling booths.

The aggregate saving in cost would be enormous and it would eliminate party patronage. Moreover if schoolhouses must be accessible to children they should not be less convenient for adults.

Whatever defects might arise I feel that the use of the schoolhouses would give to our citizens the satisfac-tion of voting in a public place instead of intruding on the privacy of family homes, and would certainly be superior to the present wasteful, confusing and unnecessary renting of private homes for public use.

There can be no doubt that the practices resorted to in-rodeos constitute eruelty and abuse to the animals taking part therein. Magistrate W. W. B. Mc-Innes was scathing in his comments upon a case of abuse to a horse in a rodeo sponsored by a service club in Vancouver in 1949. He said, referring to broneo busting, "the very basis of that performance is cruelty. The horse is in pain and resents that pain and reacts like a wild horse . . . and that was intended by the application of these devices." He also said, "continual spurring" and he stressed the word "continual," "is insisted upon." The fine imposed by Magistrate McInnes upon the rodeo promoter in this case was appealed before County Court Judge C. J. The minister is by instinct a tidy man. The Liberals, in his eyes, were untidy housekeepers. Their errors of calculation were appalling. They concealed their true surpluses by "salting away" money in "piggy banks." "We of Her Majesty's Opposition," said Mr. Fleming on March 21, 1957, "demand more careful budgeting." Convenient Figure

By subsequent calculation, the Conservatives determined that the country was being over-taxed to the tune of $500,000,000. This worked out to the convenient figure of $120 per family, which was widely used in the 1957 once the gardens are seen and the Olympics and seascape admired-

Mr. Fleming's criticism was that the Liberals went about the matter in the wrong way. "Debt reductions," he in-sisted, "should be carefully and sys-tematically planned, not left to be dealt In 1958 the polls showed 56 per cent of the national vote for the with by the hit and miss method which Conservatives. He justified his call for a better deal for the prov inces in tax-sharing with the argument that this was not a demand for higher expenditures but for the withdrawal of the federal authority from various revenue fields. From the standpoint of balanced budget, this was obviously a istinction without a difference.

In the fifth place, Mr. Fleming stood

How could the Conservatives hope to cut taxes drastically, increase expenditures dramatically, and yet keep the budget in balance? Mr. Fleming's answer, already suggested in his 1956 speech, was: Eliminate waste, "There is a great deal of government expendi-ture that could be, under careful exam-ination, reduced." Here then was the sixth measure.

It must be emphasized that while

Mr. Fleming looked forward to better budgets, he certainly did not anticipate bigger ones. Pointing an accusing finger, he noted that the Liberals in 1957 proposed to spend more than ever before, except in the war year, 1943-44.

Tell the Truth

For most of my life, I have preached to my fellow doctors the doctrine of telling the truth to any patient with a cancer who wants the truth. If a patient with cancer looks me in the eye and says, "What have I got, Doctor?" I tell him. I tell him the truth as I see it.

I talk to him honestly as I would talk to an old friend. Unfortunately, most of us doctors were taught at college never to tell the truth to a man with cancer or any other serious or probably fatal disease. I remember once hearing one of America's most distinguished surgeons saying, "I never in my life have told the truth about cancer to a victim of the disease." victim of the disease.

The only people to whom I do not feel I should tell the truth are those who evidently don't want to hear it. If an old man with a scattered and hopeless cancer doesn't ask me about it, and lets his grown sons handle the matter, I don't talk to him about it.

In all my 50-odd years of practice, during which time I have told the truth to many hundreds of patients, I can remember only one or two who seemed to be sorry that they were told, and promptly stuck their-head into the sand. One went to a faith healer, and another went to a quack. The relatives of a patient often say, "Don't tell him what he has—he'll commit suicide," but I cannot remember a patient whom I told who did take his life.

who did take his life.

There have been a number of studies made of a few hundred patients with cancer in which the doctors asked the people whether they wanted the truth, and usually in a high percentage of cases, the patients said they would prefer to be told.

Here on my desk is a very interesting letter just received from a woman who writes well. She says, a while ago, she had a cancer removed, and now she is much upset and is losing faith in her doctors because they will not answer her questions honestly and frankly as she wants them to do.

She asks me, "Why does a doctor treat a cancer patient as if she were not bright?"
Why "all the mumbo-jumbo I have run into the attempts to drape the doctor's knowledge in a veil of mysticism? Nothing sould be worse for my page of minds I am knowledge in a veil of mysticism? Nothing could be worse for my peace of minds I am am reasonably intelligent "woman—not a young fool—and surely I should be able to understand at least something of what is

She says she felt better when she found a doctor who admitted to her that no one knows all about the rare type of cancer she has. She likes a doctor who is honest; she likes him much better than she likes a man no beats about the bush.

In this woman's case, I can see why the ctors hated to talk to her, because there doctors hated to talk to her, because there is the possibility that the cancer, which began in her breast, has scattered all over her body. In such cases, it takes courage for a doctor to tell the person the truth. So often, also, I think the doctor fears that the patient's reaction will be bad. Perhaps he fears that if the woman is left without hope she will not make a good fight against the disease.

But I wish all doctors could read the letters I get which show how much mental distress a woman suffers when, for a year, things keep going from bad to worse, and things keep going from bad to worse, and she cannot get anyone to discuss the problem frankly with her.

Also, I would point out that, often, there is some hope for the patient. I have known many patients with scattered cancer, whose bodies had so much resistance to the disease that they kept on living for years. Occasionally, I see a patient who did not die because her diagnosis had been wrong, and she did not have cancer. Also, it is well-known to all old doctors that 5 or 10 per cent of women will live on for years after they have been found to have a scattered breast cancer. This is why I never care to slam the door of hope shut in the patient's slam the door of hope shut in the patient's

I say to people with cancer, "If you want the truth, tell your doctor that you want it, and that you can 'take it'; you can stand it, and you will feel much better with the truth than with a long series of poorly-told look with...a hard head to judge with...and a heart to lose

If you've got eyes to Look at Dodge...there's a distinctive quality about it. Every swift line is racy, elegant, just a proud touch different from all the others.

Stack Dodge up against the others. Ride? Flat, steady. Performance? Remarkable. Even the slant-six feels like an eight. Handling? New low-effort steering makes parking a breeze. Dependability? Unlimited. Completely rust-proofed. Goes 4,000 miles between oil changes, 32,000 miles between grease jobs. 12 month warranty. Price? You're in for a great surprise.

Take a spin in Dodge. That's when you finally lose your heart. That's when you make up your mind not to settle for anything less than a Dodge. See your Dodge dealer about it!

TEAHOUSE' SELLOUT

Langham Court Comedy Popular COMPULSORY

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON Without even trying for a centennial year moonshot, Victoria Theatre Guild has come up with a production that, in its own genre and for sheer entertainment and quality, will be difficult to ex this 12 months of special events. Premiered Saturday before a sell-out audience at Langham Court Theatre, "Teahouse of the August Moon" is, frankly, one of the best comedies and one of the best di rected productions seen there for several years.

The beautifully written sat ire by ace playwright John Patrick is brimming with pungent and witty commentary; concerned with the United States occupation of Okinawa, it pokes light-heart. ed fun at bureacracy and na-tional egomania.

In his convocation address, he told a large audience of professors, graduates and parents that the "burning issue" today is the battle for the minds of men.

As a result of the preoccupation of the great powers with ideology and dogma, and on their general but "fallacious" assumption that history repeats itself, "we have mistrust and fear which is the source of all our problems and the basic fact behind the cold war,"

"THE TUNNEL OF LOVE"

Should you buy your child a Life Insurance policy?

There are many worthwhile benefits when a child has a policy of his (or her) very own. It has the lifetime advantage of a low premium rate. It encourages thrift and lays the foundation for a growing personal estate.

But a note of caution-there are more important questions to answer first. Have you, the father, adequate insurance on your own life? Is there enough to guarantee the family their food, clothing, shelter and education requirements for as long as it's needed?

If you would like competent guidance on this problem the Man from Manufacturers is a good man to talk to. He'll put first things first-help you establish objectives for all-round family security. He'll give you a realistic plan for the future that will take the "hit and miss" out of buying life insurance. Why not call him today!

LOS ANGELES (CP) — Vancouver Fire-fighters Sunday downed Los Angeles Kickers, 7-6, for the right to meet Mexico Wednesday in the final of the Pacific international soccer championship.

The Mexicans defeated San Francisco Scots, 5-3, in overtime, Sunday in the opening game of the championships.

Vancouver and Los Angeles battled for an hour and 15 minutes of overtime after the regula-tion 90-minute game ended in 4-4 deadlock.

With both teams nearing exhaustion, the third overtime session was limited to 15 minutes in-stead of 30. However, the score was still 4-4 and by agreement the teams adopted the Mexican system of penalty kicks in groups of three.

Bob McKay, the Firefighters' Scottish winghalf stepped up and kicked three beauties into the Los Angeles net. At the other end, the Firefighters' goalle, Ken Pears, pulled off a good save on the first Los Angeles penalty attempt. He missed the other two.

Veteran all-star Art Hughes who came out of retirement this season to help the Firemen when they were hit by injuries scored two goals. Eddie Bak scored one and substitute Normie McLedd from Columbus of the Pacific Coast League added

Why do more people keep buying Goodyears again and again and again?

Research shows that people who do not own Goodyear tires switch brands a good deal, looking for a better tire. We wish them luck. On the other hand, Goodyear owners continue to buy Goodyear tires more often than any other brand. Question: What is the difference between the two groups? Answer: Satisfaction. Goodyear owners have experienced the satisfaction which comes from full value received. With Goodyear, you will too. It's guaranteed.

30,000 THRILL TO ANTICS OF GOLDEN HAWKS

By IAN SMITH

The Golden Hawks were never more spectacular and Victoria stood impressed.
This seemed to be the general concensus on Sunday after 30,000 Victorians watched the RCAF's starry stant team flash through its spectacular routine off the Dallas Road waterfront.

On a near-perfect dayan early layer of clouds gave way in the afternoon to sunshine and a brisk wind—the Hawks wen: through their paces with the flawless artistry that has come to be recognized as their trademark.

V for Victoria

They performed their usual, loops and rolls and crossovers and even added a special "V" manoeuvre in honor of Victoria's centenary. The highlight was their final act—the famous "cloudburst" and crossover, in which four jets climb through a smoke ring and scatter to the four points of the compass, all trailing smoke, while a fifth follows up the centre, spinning as

The Dallas Road area was jammed with cars and peo-ple, and the Olympics owed clearly above a lowlying cloudbank in the Strait of Juan de Fuca when the Hawks made the first appearance at precisely 3 p.m.

Split Several Ways

The seven-member team came by in formation and then split, and after that it was hard to know where to look next as they performed solo, in pairs, and in forma-

An innovation in this An innovation in this year's show was a "card five" formation, in which the Hawks moved from their basic diamond formation into one which resembled the spots on a five playing cond. In this formation they card. In this formation they performed a number of precision movements from a few hundred feet to a mile high.

The performances that drew most gasps, however, were solo and in pairs, as single Sabres jetted by seemingly below the level of the Dallas Road cliffs at speeds approaching 650 miles per hour.

Fine Contrast

Another crowd-pleaser saw one Hawk come past at low-level doing only 140 miles per hour while another flashed by at 650, providing a fine contrast.

Solo pilots A. F. McDonald and George Miller, who did most of the low-level work, spent much of their time dodging seagulls. The

MEN STRAPPED IN BED 'NORMAL PROCEDURE'

Ald Geoffrey Edgelow today said several men transferred to a private hospital from the Mountain View Home are unhappy and city council should investigate.

But welfare committee chairman Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson said an investigation already had been made and everything was found to be in order.

"We talked things over with the patients, their relatives and their doctors and everything is being done under the doctors' orders," she said.

Ald. Edgelow said he had received four phone calls of complaint, particularly because some of the aged men were strapped into their beds at night.

Evening Bag and Gloves Perfect Graduation Gift By PENNY SAVER

Not particularly concerned whether or not high school graduations are "morally wrong," the girls who will be taking part in the ceremonies on Friday, June 8, are more likely thinking in terms of evening bags, gloves, shoes, formals and flowers—and, of course, escorts!

Perfect gift for girls with thoughts like these is the evening bag and glove set Penny saw in one store. One set has dainty white wrist-length gloves in cotton eyelet with bag of same material—all for $5.98. Same set with three or four-button glove rather than the short one is $6.98.

Another item which guarantees elegance for the high school graduate or her mother (for a change daughter could give mother a present for having got her off to school on time for the last 12 years!) is a matching glove and scarf set which sells for $2.98.

Sets come in smart white, beige, navy, blue or pink, nishing all worries about whether your gloves really do match your neck scarf.

For sunny summer days when your daughter will be off on the beach forgetting about all those exams she struggled through during June, buy her a zany Breton sun hat. Made to accommodate bouffant hair-dos, hats open out in funnel effect on top. Of heavy crinoline construction, hats are covered with gay cotton prints. Price is $6.98.

Another handy item for all women when the Victoria winds blow but hats are required, are elastics which fit into hat bands and under hair, doing away with the usual stance of one hand on your hat as you lean into the wind.

Elastics come in black, white, brown and grey to match your hair and be as inconspicuous as possible. Price is 10 cents each:

Penny will tell you where to find these items if you call her at EV 2-3131.

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

AS I HAVE stated several times before in this column, I honestly believe that the ratings DO reflect the tastes of the mass of North American television Therefore it was rather fun to learn of the res of the latest Nielsen ratings that were announced on the very day of the recent Emmy Awards show.

If they proved nothing else the ratings did prove that the combined taste of the 6,000 members of the American Academy of Television Arts is somewhat at variance with that of the general public.

Only one big winner in the awards made the "Top Ten" in the Nielsen poll. That was "Hazel" whose star, Shirley Booth, won the best actress award for her tiele

But, as Vernon Scott of UPI pointed out, "Hazel" placed second to "Bonanza" among the first 10 but "Bonanza" did not win a single Emmy any more than did "Marshal Dillon" which placed third in the Nielsen report or Bob Hope who placed No. 4, or "Ben Casey" that placed fifth.

"Gupsmoke" gapage.

report or Bob Hope who placed No. 4, or "Ben Casey" that placed fifth.

"Gunsmoke" galloped up into sixth place with Nielsen pollsters but was shot down by Academy voters who, playing no favorites also riddled "Wagon Train" that was listed in seventh spot. As a matter of fact, neither of them drew a single nomination.

including best dramatic show of the year.

All of this is made more interesting when one remembers past years when the Emmy Academy's choices for awards followed closely the popularity of shows as reflected in the ratings. Therefore one can't help but wonder if the Academy is fishing for Minnow(s) (of the Newton variety) with bait named "culture."

Be that as it may—purely conjecture—critics' tastes and the public's tastes are often at variance. One, tastes and the public's tastes are often at variance. One, for instance, who dotes on drama, would undoubtedly raise his hand to be counted for Julie Harris and "Victoria Regina" as the best in TV in spite of the fact it would be viewed by a relatively small number.

It's just that it was this year that Academy members appeared to desert the popular choise that makes it all so interesting.

VANCOUVER — College student Suzanne Parrott, 18, rescued by sled and helicopter Sunday after she broke a leg climbing nearby Mount Sey-mour, was in good condition in hospital today.

The girl tumbled 30 feet into a rocky crevasse during a climb with a group of University of British Columbia friends. Guided by her cries, they tunnelled through eight feet of snow lifted her by a sling and carried her 1.000 feet by sled to a level area where an RCAF helicopter was able to land.

RCMP Const. Lucian Bigge-mann said the five-minute helicopter ride direct to Lions Gate. Hospital in North Vancouver saved a long trail and road trip.

Thirty-one member countries and three non-members have purchased—or have promished—$65,446,175 of the $200,000,000 bond issue. The figure does not include the United States, which is expected to account for $100,000,000 worth.
Congress has yet to ratify the U.S. pledge.

While the acting secretary-general still seems confident the bond issue will be sold out, some UN diplomats are not so sure. They say that even with the United States buying half the bond issue the best Thant can hope for is a total sale to governments of $175,000,000 to $180,000,000.

Thant can offer the 25-year, two-per-cent interest bonds to non-profit institutions such as private charitable foundations, but he has not yet made any move in that direction.

The bond issue is intended to pull the United Nations out of $180,000,000 to $180,000,000.

United Services Week, which originated here and has spread across the country, began Sunday with a drumhead service at Victoria High School, followed by a sports program.

Cadets of all three services marched to the high school by way of City Hall, where the salute was taken by Rear-Admiral E. W. Finch-Noyes, liag officer, Pacific Coast.

A combined cadet corps is to perform the sunset ceremony tonight on the lawns of the Legislative Buildings, and Rainbow Sea Cadets will present the sunset service on Friday.

A ball at the Empress Hotel on Saturday night will be held for cadets of all three services.

BALLOTS NO HELP

Voters Must Know Party Affiliations

OTTAWA (CP) — In the federal election game, you are expected to know the players without benefit of a program.

Thus, when you retire into the seclusion of a polling booth to mark your ballot June 18, you will find that the ballot does not give the candidates' carty affiliations.

arty affiliations.

And if you should ask an electure fused to budge on the affiliation

And if you should ask an election official inside the polling station, he won't give you the information. The ballot lists candidates by name, address and occupation only.

The theory is that designating the political stripe of a candidate would detract from his independent position if elected to the House of Comnons. It might also create difficulties where more than one candidate where more than one candidates where more than one candidates where there are two candidates with similar or identical names, and that it would help voters who do not know the name of the candidate running for the party who do not know the name of the candidate running for the party they wish to support.

30,000 THRILL TO ANTICS OF GOLDEN HAWKS

By IAN SMITH

The Golden Hawks were never more spectacular and Victoria stood impressed.

This seemed to be the gen eral concensus on Sunday after 30,000 Victorians watched the RCAF's starry stunt team flash through its spectacular routine off the Dallas Road waterfront.

near-perfect dayan early layer of clouds gave way in the afternoon to sunshine and a brisk wind—the Hawks went through their paces with the flawless artistry that has come to be recognized as their trademark.
